HUGE WORK FUND COMING TO COUNTY

STATE APPROPRIATES 25% OF THE 23 MILLION DOLLAR NATIONAL RECOVERY FUND FOR LOCAL PUBLIC WORKS IN CITIES AND VILLAGES.

Quick work on the part of the mayors, aldermen and trustees of the cities and villages of Steuben county will secure a liberal portion of the huge 23 million dollar National Recovery fund appropriated to New York state.

Of this amount 25% has been set aside for local public works projects such as street paving and sewers, or any other public work of this character in cities and villages.

According to Wm. L. Collins of Hornell, widely known contractor and capitalist and head of the relief work in Hornell and Canisteo, and A. L. Blades, highway contractor, it will be possible to pave every unpaved street in Hornell, Canisteo, Corning and most of the villages of this county with the funds that should be paid into this county from the fund.

Mr. Blades said to The TIMES man: "I predict that by the middle of August it will be impossible to hire laborers in Steuben county. All will be at work. There will be work for all, including college boys home on vacation and out of jobs. Immediate action and vigorous follow up must be made by officials in order to secure our rightful share of this huge federal fund. Canisteo should obtain at least $5,000 of the fund."

Local contractors will be given preference under the law, and local help will be hired where obtainable and efficient.

Ask $200,000. Road Fund

As first stated in The TIMES last week County Supt., of Highways Wm. G. Kellogg of Greenwood has applied through Representative G. H. Stalker for $200,000. from the 3 and one-half billion dollar appropriation made by Congress for National Recovery, this sum to be used specifically for secondary and feeder roads in Steuben county.

Application has been made with the federal board for the $200,000. according to a letter received Tuesday from Mr. Stalker. If this grant is secured, as provided under the section of the National Recovery Act published in The TIMES last week, Supt. Kellogg states that he will keep 3000 men at work every other week—1,500 every week alternating—for 4 or 5 months; he will arrange the schedule so that they can work throughout the winter when extreme weather does not prevent.

FORGERY CASES AGAINST FORMER CANISTEO MAN QUICKLY DISCOVERED

Andrew O. Silsbee, who lives at 160 East Avenue, Hornell and works on the Curry Cline farm in Hartsville was arrested Wednesday afternoon for forgery by Constable C. N. Roach and Sergt. C. G. Burnett. The checks were passed June 6 and 7. One was for $11.50 of which Silsbee forged the name of Chas. A. Carter and passed it at Karl's Cash market.

The other check was for $11. dated June 7. It was made payable to "R. B. Silsbee" and he forged the signature of W. Scott Caward.

Also a check for $37.30 he made out to the name of Smith Kniffin who is a farmer in Kanona, and he forged the name of James Burns, a farmer of Howard and brother of John Burns of Canisteo to it. He bought 2 shirts and 2 pairs of stockings with it at Penney's store in Hornell and received the cash difference.

The matter was under investigation by the officials and James Burns came to Canisteo and consulted with his brother, John Burns and Constable Neil Roach was asked to find out who forged James Burns' name. While Roach and Burnett were questioning Silsbee they became convinced that he was the forger of the James Burns check. They compared the signature of the check which Penney's had cashed with Silsbee's handwriting on the other checks and with the assistance of chief of police Clarence Bailey of Hornell they confronted Silsbee with the evidence.

Silsbee stubbornly claimed that he did not forge the checks; that they were forged by a man named Warren Ostrander; but he later broke down and confessed that he forged all three checks.

He was arrested Wednesday afternoon and brought to the Canisteo police station where he was detained until Thursday when he was arraigned before justice G. E. Potter and was held for the grand jury. He was held in the Steuben county jail and the case was investigated this week by the grand jury.

Was Indicted

The evidence against Silsbee was presented to the grand jury in session at Bath Tuesday and an indictment was found against him for forgery in the 2nd degree. He will be arraigned Saturday morning before Judge E. S. Brown.

Silsbee is well and favorably known in Canisteo and has previously always borne a good reputation. It is felt that owing to unfortunate influences, he made a mistake and after having been taught a lesson, it is hoped that his punishment will not be too severe.

Maentime Constable Roach is receiving much credit for his quick action in discovering the source of the forged checks and stopping the same before more harm had beed done.

Silsbee's Statements

Andrew O. Silsbee made the following sworn statements covering the 2 cases:

State of New York, County of Steuben, village of Canisteo, ss:

Andrew O. Silsbee, being duly sworn deposes and says, "I am 42 years of age, occupation, farmer, married. Reside with my wife and family, at 160 East Avenue, Hornell, N. Y. I have been told I need not make the following statement; I do so with my own free will, it may be used against me in a criminal action, if so be desired.

"About the 6th of June, 1933 about 7 oclock p. m., I drove up to the gasoline station, operated by Leon Burns in the village of Canisteo, N. Y., located on the main road in the said village. I asked Leon Burns for one blank check and he gave me 2 on the First State bank of Canisteo, N. Y. I was alone at the time. I wanted this check to pass at some store to get some money. I had no store in mind at the time.

"While at my home in Hornell, N. Y., I decided to write and cash one of the checks, this was the 13th day of June 1933 about 2 p. m. I made the check payable to A. Stiles and signed it C. A. Carter, amount $11.50. I knew a man named C. A. Carter who resided in Canisteo, N. Y. I intended the check should be passed as one of Mr. Carter's checks. My wife Charlotte Silsbee and I drove the Essex coach from my home in Hornell, N. Y., down the back road to Canisteo, N. Y. When we reached Canisteo I went to the J. E. Karl meat market located in Greenwood street, Canisteo, and bought some butter, meat and a can of cheese. I gave the above mentioned check to Lynn Carmer, a clerk employed in said store. I received about $9.90 change for the check, the meat and other articles costing about $1.60. I gave my wife $5.00 of this money while she was in the car at the curb. Later we went home to Hornell, N. Y.

"I have read the foregoing statement and I swear it is all true and I have been informed that swearing to a false statement makes me guilty of an additional crime.

The Caward Forgery

About June 7, 1933 and about 9:00 p. m., I and my wife, Charlotte, drove up in front of Cornish's restaurant located in Cass street, Hornell, N. Y., and went into the restaurant for something to eat. After eating I presented a check to Mr. O. E. Cornish for the amount of $11.00, said check was drawn on the First State bank of Canisteo, Canisteo, N. Y. Check made payable to R. B. Silsbee and signed W. Scott Caward, both of the above signatures I wrote myself, but I do not know a man by the name of R. B. Silsbee but do know a man by the name of W. Scott Caward, who resides in Greenwood street, Canisteo, N. Y. The signature I wrote on this check intended to be his. This blank check I had received from Leon Burns, Canisteo, N. Y., June 6, 1933. I received $7.00 in change from Mr. Cornish for the check after he had taken out what I owed him.

Seven denominations are cooperating in the movement. Seven trustees, each from one of the denominations in the association, constitute the governing body. Representing and assisting them are the president of the association, W. J. Richtmeyer of Hornell,, seven vice-presidents and an executive committee from the various denominations and churches represented.

The laymen's association heartily invites all people to attend all of its services and seeks to be of help and uplift to all.

Special busses will run from Hornell to the park each Sunday afternoon during the summer.

CANISTEO POSTOFFICE KEEPS CLASS

The fiscal year in the postoffice department ends June 30 at midnight. Canisteo postoffice remains safely in the second class, its receipts being in excess of $10,000. a year. Had it dropped into 3rd class, the salary of the postmaster would have been reduced, the clerical force cut down, allowances for hired help reduced and village delivery abolished.

Two postoffices in the county are reported to have lost their standing as 2nd class postoffices—North Cohocton and Addison. Beginning July 1 they are reduced to 3rd class.

Will Return Home

James W. Mitchell is expected home soon from New York City where he has been staying for 2 weeks at the home of his son, Dr. H. H. Mitchell, while recovering from his recent operation for hernia.

GRADUATING EXERCISES OF THE ACADEMY

THE CLASS OF [illegible] NUMBERS 32 MEMBERS WHO RECEIVED THEIR DIPLOMAS MONDAY EVENING AT AN COMMENCEMENT OF CANISTEO ACADEMY.

Canisteo Academy graduated a class of 32 members Monday night when diplomas were presented by Duncan Boughner of the school board in behalf of the in[illegible]n which was holding its 4th commencement.

Academy hall was decorated in the class colors, yellow and white. The class motto, "Carpe Diem," was prominent in the decorations, and the stage was banked with flowers.

Principal M. Gardner

A large audience filled the hall and cheered the various speakers and the musicians. The banquet was cleared away and the guests went directly to the hall for commencement. There were perhaps, not as many old alumni back this year as usual, but all events were largely attended and were very successful.

Class Honors

The class honors for scholarship were won by Alfred Slawson who was valedictorian and Harold Young, salutatorian. Music was furnished by the Academy chorus and Academy orchestra under the direction of Miss Emily Blanchard. The invocation was delivered by Rev. Carl E. Dawkins, pastor of the Baptist church.

The commencement address was given by Dean J. Nelson Norwood of Alfred university. A sumary of it is given elsewhere in this newspaper.

Class of 1932

The following were given diplomas of graduation:

John Adams, Onalee Austin, Lionel Baker, Wilma Beers, Marjorie Burd, Alta Burns, Mary Cobb, Marian Collier, Marian Cornish, Harland Dennis, Wilhelmine Drake, Eldon Gay, Kathryn Gillis, E. An additional award to the student excelling in science in the senior class, donated by Rev. and Mrs. Harry L. Somers, was awarded to Harold Young, clas salutatorian. The amount of the award is $5.

The closing school year has been one of real success in Canisteo Academy. The standard of efficiency and scholarship has been steadily rising for 2 years under Prin. D. M. Gardner and the careful attention of the school board. Far less papers are rejected by the regents examiners, formerly marked up by inefficient teachers. The number of students passing successfully in proportion to those trying, is steadily increasing; advantageous changes have been made by the board in the instruction department, it is stated, and it is hoped that the improvement will continue aided by the co-operation of the pupils themselves and especially by parents.

ABLE COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS DELIVERED BY DEAN J. N. NORWOOD

Dean J. Nelson Norwood of Alfred university was the commencement speaker at the annual commencement exercises of Canisteo Academy Monday evening. Dean Norwood is a deep thinker and a pleasing and polished orator. His subject was: "Maintaining the Gold Standard of Character." It was replete with up-to-date observations and suggestions to graduates from both branches of learning, the academies, as well as the school of hard knocks; He was facetious at times, inspiring at others, and interesting throughout. He entered the realm of supposing things, and some of the practical advice he gave was as follows:

"What calamity it would be if we all slipped off the gold standard of character! It is common to speak of good character as golden. We speak of the Golden Rule. How pointed is the picture of the image in Daniel with its gold head and its clay feet! That was a king's dream but it was characteristic.

"If we all slipped off this standard there would be no dependability. There could be no stores in Canisteo, no banks, no commencement. Without the dependability which is so important an element in good character, I might not have come. You might have taken a notion to go to the movies, the musicians might not have come. But you see little fear was felt that we would not show up so used are we in our associated life to act with reasonable dependability. How exasperated we get, how we berate people when they do not act dependably.

"Just give yourself a character examination. Do you keep appointments promptly? Do you play ball as agreed? If you promise to furnish music or conduct devotions for the woman's club you invariably do as agreed, or do you call up the last minute and say you are slightly indisposed and cannot keep your appointment. When you say that do you really mean you are not disposed to play or pray? Is honesty with you just the best policy to be side-stepped when not convenient or is it something fundamentally or inherently right? Are you a principled person? Do you cheat in exams., if you feel you can get away with it or is that something you would scorn to do under any circumstances? If the storekeeper gives you 10c too much change do you correct the mistake or do you merely chuckle that you are 10c to the good? If you can afford a pullman ride these days how do you feel about replenishing your supply of towels from the pullman car?

"You see I have said little about defects of character of a more conventional sort—like drinking, smoking, dressing, baudily frequenting questionable resorts at unearthly hours of the night. Indeed I am quite puritanical on them myself, but I am emphasizing these less talked of elements of character.

"I believe the best way that these graduates of 1933 can serve their day and generation is to set for themselves in all their dealings the highest standards of personal integrity and the strictest self-discipline. Our breakdown my friends, which we call the depression is not merely economic, it is also moral. See the sorts of admissions the Mitchells, the Harrimans and the Morgan's are having to make. They are but the higher out-cropping of the Just get by philosophy which too many of us just-ordinary folk accept and practice. Don't join!

"Set for yourselves a high standard of social responsibility. Do not accept the philosophy that it is none of my business. The gangster, the racketeer, the crook could play a small part in our life if we did not so easily absolve ourselves of responsibliity for them. It is so easy for us when we know of crooked doings to ease conscience by saying, "Oh well it is none of my business. Let the police attend to it." Yes, and so the crook escapes We lack the initiative, the moral courage to act. Up the scale of importance this rises until a Lindbergh baby is kidnapped and brutally murdered. The country is horrified. How many people know facts enough about that terrible happening to clear it up and bring the guilty to justice? Yet they say, "It is none of my business." Sixteen months after its occurrence this great government with all its state and local supplements is helpless. The miscreants go scot free.

"I ask you to be different. Discipline yourselves and accept your real social responsibilities more fully, than we your fathers and grandfathers have done."

Dean J. Nelson Norwood

RESUME WORK ON STATE T. E. R. A. ROAD PROJECT

APPROPRIATIONS OF COUNTY, TOWNS AND STATE TO BUILD ROADS IN STEUBEN COUNTY COSTING $125,000 AGAIN APPROVED AFTER IRRITATING DELAY.

Following the disclosures in The Canisteo TIMES, Wednesday, June 22, that the relief work fund of $125,000. for Steuben county under the Temporary Relief Administration had been cancelled by the State T. E. R. A., in New York City upon the recommend of Miss Presby, their representative in this county, the cancellation was lifted Friday afternoon.

Rev. C. H. Grabb of Painted Post, chairman of the Steuben committee received a telegram at 5 p. m., from the State T. E. R. A., that the approval was given again to the Steuben county 24 road projects and that the state would pay what it had previously been assigned to pay, $25,860.

A meeting of the Steuben county committee was held Tuesday and County Supt., of Roads W. G. Kellogg immediately resumed work. The first project to get under way is the Telegraph road in Bath.

In addition to the $25,860. to be furnished by the state from the $60,000,000. bond issue of which Steuben county pays its share, the balance of the $125,000. is furnished as follows:

Towns of county $19,450.
County general work relief fund $19,450.
State T. E. R. A., $25,860.
County road fund $60,785.

Reason for Cancelling

The reason attributed by Miss Presby for recommending the cancellation of the project and the 3 weeks' delay which followed, preventing several hundred welfare workers in the county from having employment, was that one-half the workers on the projects should be taken from the cities of Corning and Hornell.

The board of supervisors held that 20% of them should come from the cities owing to the fact that Corning and Hornell were paying 20% of the fund.

All Hand Work

All work possible is to be done by hand. Work was started on Monday and will be continued as long as the $125,000. lasts.

The projects are being started in the following order: Telegraph Road, Bath; McNutt Run road, Campbell; Curtis Hollow road, Addison; Narrows Creek road, Corning; Ashabugh road, Hornellsville; Spaulding Hollow road, Canisteo; Twelve Mile Creek road, Avoca, Wheeler and Cohocton. All will be under way within a week.

At the start about 10 men are taken from the various towns work list and additional men would be employed as work continued. The first work is clearing and grubbing out brush along the roads and constructing culverts. Folowing this preliminary work the roads wil be graded and a base will be laid. When the grading and laying the base construction work is started between 30 and 50 men would be employed per week in the various towns.

AIRPORT ASKS LOW PRICE FOR ITS LAND

In order to correct the wrong impression that may have gone out regarding the price of $1,000. asked by the Hornell Airport for right of way across its airport property between that city and Arkport for the proposed new state highway, it appears that the Airport is very fair and reasonable in its demands when the facts are considered. The Airport asked $1,000. for its land; it made another offer to the effect that if the supervisors would buy them 8 acres and make the fill required of 1,200 yards they would give the right of way across its land.

The Airport would prefer to retain its present land; but if it is needed the officials wish to make it plain that they cannot replace it and build the fill and required runway for any less than $1,000. and they are perfectly willing to let the Supervisors do it for them if they think they can do it for less.

E. A. McHenry of the Airport and a prominent Hornell business man said: "We are all anxious to get the road built—somewhere on any one of the routes proposed. We don't care which route, if they will only agree on one and put the men to work. The welfare costs must be cut down and the only way to do that is to provide employment. The Airport will do anything to get the road built. We are not asking any exhorbitant price, nor any price at all except to have our land replaced and the runway built.

Underneath the foundation stone of a new literary club in America two volumes of modern poetry have been buried. An excellent idea, as far as it goes.

The country's asknowledged smartest dog seems to have been located at Gerber, Calif. He meets trains on the dot, but only those with dining cars.

A far north lecturing explorer says that polar bears can smell a meal 10 miles away. We didn't know that they went in for old-fashioned boiled dinner up that way.

Here is a motto for the home: "The man of the house is entitled to his favorite chair regardless of its style." He will get it, too, just as the pedestrian is entitled to his right of way in traffic.

Humorist: "How is it," asks a critic, "that some English novelists are more popular in foreign countries than they are here?" We can only suggest that it is because their books have not yet been translated into the language of the countries referred to.

FIRST BREAK IN CABINET

After having observed the circus-like performances of Professor Morley and other ringmasters who have been flaunted far and near as "close to the President," and as being his "closest advisers," Cordull Hull, high minded, patriotic brilliant, will resign his post as secretary of state when he returns from London, it is stated.

That Secretary Hull will resign is not to be wondeerd at. Why he did not resign sooner is, in the opinion of The TIMES, the only ground for wonder.

He has been humiliated time and again by President Roosevelt and Professor Moley, with the ability of either of whom Secretary Hull would not be compared to his own disadvantage. With much notoriety Prof. Moley left for London last week after several conferences on board the yacht with Mr. Roosevelt. He was going to the London Economic conference, it was given out, to send "reports" to Mr. Roosevelt.

Nothing like displacing trained statesmen of many years experience in world affairs, with a visionary, narrow minded college professor. As to the need of more "reports," there have been too many already and they have not been of a character that are complimentary to President Roosevelt's management nor of America in general.

Secretary Hull and his fellow delegates from America have been thrown into confusion and humiliation by the reports given out from Washington, directly contradictory to their own plans and purposes. Secretary Hull and his collegues have given out one statement and one avowed policy only to find it flatly contradicted by some of President Roosevelt's bright young men in the department of state at Washington. It has become the but of the other delegates, the subject of sarcastic reference by the British and French newspapers. No one either here or abroad knows where America stands nor what we stand for at the conference under this divided policy.

Secretary of State Hull whose knowledge of tariffs, economic policies and world conditions are profound, was obliged to delay his opening address at the Council in London several days by the counter instructions received from Washington. And his address was no sooner delivered than Professor Moley went on the air and by radio and in various newspaper statements disowned and humiliated the Secretary of State of the United States who had served only since last March.

On May 16, President Roosevelt sent a message to 54 nations in which he said:

> The World Economic Conference will meet soon and must come to conclusions quickly. The world cannot await deliberations long drawn out. The conference must establish order in place of the present chaos by a stabilization of currencies, by freeing the flow of world trade, and by international action to raise price levels. It must, in short, supplement individual domestic programs for economic recovery, by wise and considered international action.

In view of his lack of support of the American delegation at London, and of the egotistic actions of Mr. Moley, the above statement by the President reads like a joke. No sooner did Secretary Hull deliver his address to the Conference than Mr. Moley stepped in and said that the real American program for the Conference had been completely misunderstood or misrepresented by the man whom President Roosevelt had placed at the head of the American delegation. No wicked foreigners can be blamed for this unhappy situation. If there has been any conspiracies against the peace and comfort of our delegation in London, their site has been in Washington. All must hope that these ambiguities and intrigues, if such they are, may soon be brushed away. Mr. Roosevelt sat by in silence and read about the flings and jeers of the British and French press at the fumbling and futility of our representatives, at the Economic Conference.

About all that can be added to this unhappy situation is that the conference is doomed to failure so far as the United States is concerned.

Powers Granted Roosevelt

President Roosevelt has the power to close all banks and open those he pleases; to embargo gold and strike the gold clause from past, present and future contracts; to effect 'controlled' inflation by a variety of methods; to pay a bounty to farmers in an effort to raise the prices of their crops; to coordinate and regulate industry and suspend the anti-trust laws meanwhile; to create an entirely new and economical pension system; to borrow and amortize billions for public works and to dispense a dole."

Things That Count

By Spencer M. Free

'Tis the human touch in this world that counts,
The touch of your hand and mine,
Which means far more to the fainting heart
Than shelter and bread and wine.
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er,
And bread lasts only a day,
But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice
Sing on in the soul alway.

Play Your Part

A place in the ranks awaits you—
Each man has some part to play.
The past and the future are nothing
In the face of the stern today.

—Adelaide A. Proctor.

The Times Grows

Conditions are not good; times very hard; but The Canisteo TIMES does not believe in going backwards. The only other way is to go ahead. Therefore we are about to install a book and job press which will round out the equipment of this office as one of the most complete and modern of any in the state in a place the size of Canisteo or considerably larger.

This piece of machinery is a fine Premier Whitlock book and job press, size 36x48, 4 track, 2 revolution, recognized as the last word in printing presses. It weighs 8 tons and will be a good companion for the Duplex flat bed press on which The TIMES is printed.

We trust our friends will remember the fine equipment of this office which enables us to do advantageously any job large or small in a manner not excelled by any office anywhere and at a price considerably lower than city offices are able to operate for. Work on the foundation is now in progress and the press will be installed during July.

The Dollar

If the United States does go ahead and devalue the dollar and gets an agreement on a stable ratio between the dollar and the pound, there is no reason why we shouldn't have a sound prosperity.

Income Taxes

Income taxes [illegible] product of communism; an inh[illegible]ce tax is simply a deferred incor[illegible]. The theory of Communism is [illegible]ll the income of every person b[illegible] to the state. The more adva[illegible] governments of New York Stat[illegible] of the United States, however[illegible] only a portion of it.

It seems to be an assured fact that the income tax rate will be still further increased and that the exemption caused by capital losses will be reduced. The struggling salaried worker, with no capital to lose, is not permitted to deduce even the cost of that serious operation on wife or child which, with doctor and hospital bills, may have eaten up half his year's income.

Capital losses of the rich must be duly considered [illegible] the losses that sickness inflicts upon the poor. The federal income tax law has even ceased to make any distinction between earned and unearned income.

Five thousand dollars earned by the sweat of the brow is now supposed to look exactly the same to Uncle Sam as $5,000 in dividends derived from a snug $1000,000 capital which renders its possessors comparatively safe and secure. These are obvious and flagrant injustices.

Too obvious and flagrant, we think, to be tolerated in a democracy that expects men and women to continue loyal to its tenets no matter how heavy their burdens.

Such gross inequities should be removed before Congress attempts further to raise income tax rates. There is a limit to what the popular sense of fairness will stand.

Being in a good frame of mind helps keep one the picture of health

Election Crooks Escape

Through the ac[illegible] District Attorney Crain of N[illegible] York City, and the shrewd manag[illegible]t of the leader of Greater New [illegible] Tammany hall, John F. Curry, [illegible] Tammany election crooks who stuffed ballot boxes and made false election returns at the general election last November, were indicted.

Pleas of guilty to a lesser charge, out of the forty-four election fraud indictments that Mr. Crain was finally prodded into seeking last January.

The answer can best be found in the reasons why Tammany is satisfied with District Attorney Crain and strongly dissatisfied with United States Attorney Medalie, whose retention in office by the Roosevelt administration Tammany bitterly resents. Not only is Mr. Medalie a republican but he set the pace for election fraud prosecutions involving many Tammany "workers" in sacred Tammany territory. District Attorney Crain was forced into action in which he had no heart.

It is not surprising that his evidence was scant, his convictions few and his worry about fugitives from justice nil.

Tammany has particularly well defined notions as to what a district attorney should NOT do. Mr. Crain is a Tammany district attorney.

It Takes So Little

It takes so little to make us glad.
Just a cheering clasp of a friendly hand,
Just a word from one who can understand;
And we finish the task we long had planned
And we lose the doubt and the fear we had—
So little it takes to make us glad.

—Ida G. Morris.

Back to the Village

The road of our nation's destiny is now turned back to the village. The American people may find that it wil be necessary to leave our skyscrapers empty shells before they turn their backs again on the rural communities.

CRUSHING BURDEN OF TAXATION FROM WELFARE DOLE GREATEST PROBLEM

Every thoughtful person whether still possessed of means or in poverty is wondering where the present reckless policy of the state and the United States is going to end.

The big political issue of the near future in this country is gradually emerging. It has been obvious for several years past to the man in Albany who kept his eyes and ears open. It has been thrust violently into the foreground within the past few months in Washington. It is not yet clearly defined in the mind of the man on the street, but he will be talking about it soon. It is not depression or industrial recovery, but it is becoming clearer on account of these factors. Simply stated, it is this: Shall we have cooperation in government, as opposed to dictatorship or bossism, with the initiative and enterprise of the individual left intact and the government as little in business as possible? Or shall the government gradually take over what it chooses of the business of the country and assume full control of the activities of those individuals whose businesses it does not choose to absorb?

As Seen in New York State

The trend of government in this state has been unmistakable. It is toward the latter of these two propositions. It began when Nathan Miller left the Governor's chair and has continued since. With the unwitting consent of the people, to whom a plausible case was made, authority has been gradually taken from them and placed in the hands of the executive at Albany. State departments were consolidated on the plea of economy, but it has proven the most costly experiment in which the state has ever engaged. The power of making the budget, or deciding how much money shall be spent, has been taken from the people's representatives in the legislature and placed with the executive, with similar result. In every activity the state has been extending its power and the authority of the people has been curtailed. The same influences that have brought this about are demanding the wiping out of county lines, with still more power at Albany. They are the influences which fought for complete political control of the sale of beer in Albany, with the wishes of the people of the various communities entirely eliminated.

The Steps at Washington

It is not necessary to refer to the steps in this direction which have been taken at Washington, for they are fresh in the public mind. And probably it would hardly be fair to do so, for they are all labeled as emergency measures, due to the depression, to be abandoned when that crisis passes. If they actually are abandoned, without a stiff battle, it will be something unique in history. There is no record where half a million job holders, when told that their work was completed, cheerfully took themselves off the public payroll and went about getting a living some other way. And it is estimated that the number of new jobs—not counting those at manual labor in reforestation and other similar work—will fall not far short of half a million.

Perhaps the People Want It

It is possible that the people of the country want this new type of government. It is quite certain, however, that they did not knowingly ask for it, nor have they even realized its gradual but certain approach. When they do, then will the issue be joined. And the odd thing about it is that the issue will be brought about by one of the great parties practically abandoning its time honored principles. The democratic party has always maintained that it stood for state rights, the largest possible liberty of the individual, and economy. How far afield it has gone, he who runs may read in happenings of recent years in Albany and recent months in Washington.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL FOR HUGE APPROPRIATIONS, THE LARGEST EVER MADE DURING TIMES OF PEACE

WASHINGTON.—The fourth Deficiency Bill, carrying $3,459,480,208.44, the largest peace-time appropriation in the history of Congress, was signed by President Roosevelt June 17. It was passed by the house by a vote of 287 to 84. Of the total, $3,300,000,000 is for the administration of the National Industrial Recovery Act.

Representative Taber of New York, ranking republican member of the appropriation committee, vigorously assailed the bill as wasteful and extravagant. He declared that the measure hopelessly unbalanced the budget and would retard rather than promote recovery.

Chairman Buchanan of the appropriation committee took sharp issue with Mr. Taber and other critics. He declared that the measure represented a real effort to start the wheels of industry going and put idle men to work.

"The Federal budget with the bills now before the House," Mr. Taber said, "is unbalanced almost beyond the dreams of wartime. Savings have been made by the Roosevelt administration in all departments to date amounting to the following, according to my figures on the basis of what this veteran situation will be if House Resolution 185 is adopted:

"Veterans' administration, $300,000,000; salary cuts beyond those that were made before, $100,000,000; army, $20,000,000; navy, $10,000,000. This makes a total of $430,000,000.

"As against these items we have expenditures in sight based on appropriations alone for expenditures and not including funds raised by loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or otherwise as follows:

"Cost of labor, including transportation in pullmans of those who are to work for $1. a day in the camps, $250,000,000.

"The so-called Wagner-Cistogan bill, $500,000,000.

"This fourth Deficiency Bill, not including those items which relate to loans or advances which might be paid back, $3,349,000,000, a total of increased expenditures of $3,699,000,000.

"Take out the savings and you have increases of expenditures of $3,269,000,000 for the year."

TAX FEATURES

1. Increase in federal gasoline tax to 1½ cents.
2. Federal tax of 5 per cent on dividends to be levied at the source.
3. Excise tax on the declared capital stock value of corporations of one-tenth of 1 per cent. Should the corporation income exceed 12½ per cent. on the declared value, a tax of 5 per cent. shall be levied on the surplus profits.
4. Elimination of the capital loss carry-over and other administrative features which left loopholes for income tax evasion, as brought out in the Morgan hearings.
5. Three-year extension of corporation consolidation return authority with increase of 1 per cent. in income tax rate on consolidated returns instead of the present three-quarters of 1 per cent.
6. Extension for an additional year of all excise and "nuisance" taxes adopted in the 1932 Revenue Act.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES WRITTEN IN BY THE SENATE:

1. All federal income tax returns may be made public property at discretion of the President.

TOWNER WON'T RUN AGAIN FOR SUPERVISOR

WILLIAM J. STRYKER AND GEO. B. DE GROAT OF THE THIRD DISTRICT OF HORNELL ENTER THE CONTEST.—TOWNER SUPERVISOR 12 YEARS.

Benj. F. Towner of Hornell announces that he will not again seek the office of supervisor in the 3rd district of that city which he has held for 12 years. He has been an honorable, upright man on the board and has been of great service to his city, but as is usually the case, he got little credit for reducing the Hornell taxes and doing other things to the city's advantage.

There are 2 candidates for the nomination, Wm. J. Stryker, a prominent railroad man, and George B. DeGroat, a well known business man. It is reported that the former Towner adherents favor Stryker. Both, however, are regarded as strong candidates.

Towner's Statement

In retiring from the race Supervisor Towner, who is an old Erie railroad employee, said:

"In reply to the many inquiries I have received in regard to my attitude in the matter, I wish to state that I am not a candidate for reelection.

"The fact that I am now serving my sixth term in the office of supervisor, (a record not equalled in recent years) is to me sufficient guarantee of the confidence reposed in me by my constituents, and I wish at this time to extend to my friends my sincere appreciation of the support given me in the past, and hope to continue to merit their confidence to the end of my term by advancing in every way possible the best interests of the city."

As To Looks

By John Kendrick Bangs

Some folks in looks take so much pride
They don't think much on what's inside
Well, as for me, I know my face
Can ne'er be made a thing of grace,
And so I rather think I'll see
How I can fix th' inside o' me
So folks'll say, "He looks like sin,
But ain't he beautiful within!"

SWEET SANDWICHES

When no other sweet is used in the lunch, an auxilliary sweet sandwich may be added says the Consumers Information Service of the New York State department of agriculture and markets. This may be raisin bread, orange bread, or nut bread buttered, and a sweet filling, such as jelly, jam, fruit butter, conserve, or honey, may be used.

A good fruit mixture for a sandwich filling is made by grinding dried fruits, adding chopped nuts, if desired, and moistening with lemon juice or fruit juice.

Other sweets suitable for a school child's lunch includes plain cake, cookies and cooked fruits.

"I Sleep with Daddy"

A bright little girl, aged 4, and her brother, aged 6, were spending the night with their aunt. When bedtime came, the aunt asked them how they said their prayers. The little boy answered, "Sometimes I say them to muddie's knees and sometimes to the side of the bed." And how about you, little girl?" asked the aunt. "Oh, I don't need to pray, I sleep with daddy."

Milk, Vegeables, Fruits, Eggs are Basis of Successful, Healthful Meals, Commissioner Baldwin Tells New Homemakers

By CHARLES H. BALDWIN
COMMISSIONER, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND MARKETS
ALBANY, NEW YORK

This is the season when June brides are receiving considerable advice on many subjects. They are being told how to conduct themselves in the marriage ceremonies, how to manage a happy married life, when and how to buy furniture for the new home, and all manner of other things. But most important of all—from the point of view of the bride's own health and happiness, and that of her husband and future family—is the advice they will receive about the selection and preparation of food.

Students of such matters say that the young bride forms her cooking habits most rapidly during the first few weeks or months after she takes up housekeeping, and that she can be taught to improve them thereafter only with difficulty. If this is true, someone ought to make certain that the new bride begin properly and that she learns at the outset of her career as a homemaker that the food she serves at her table will probably have more to do with the success and happiness of her married left than any other factor.

One of the first lessons she should learn in these days is to be economical. A second, and even more important lesson, is that of proper food selection to assure the health of her family.

At the beginning of her career the bride should learn that the cornerstones of successful meals are those economical and wholesome foods—milk, eggs, vegetables and fruits. These have been named the "protective foods" by scientists, because they contain vitamins, minerals, proteins, and other substances which are absolutely necessary to life, and which tend to make up for deficiences in the rest of the diet.

The ideal amounts of these foods, as outlined by nutrition experts, are: a quart of milk a day for every person in the family, taken either as a beverage or in milk drinks or dairy products; one or two salads of leafy vegetables each day; an egg every day, or at least four a week; and some fruit fruit juice or tomato juice every day.

If the June bride continues to fulfill these requirements in her daily menus, she will not need to worry about the proper nutrition of her family, and at the same time she will find that these foods are also among the most economical she can buy, food value considered.

Whether you are beginning housekeeping this month, or if you have been keeping house for years, you can improve your family's meals by adopting these standards.

An important aid to new homemakers—and also experienced homemakers—is the booklet, "Spending Less for Healthful Foods." You may have a copy without charge by writing to the Consumers Information Service, New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets. New York. A copy of this booklet would make a valuable wedding gift. The advice it gives about the selection of foods is based on the statements of eminent scientists, and the information it contains should be part of the equipment of every housewife.

HIGHER PRICES FOR PRODUCE IN MARKETS

Butter, Cheese, Eggs

Extra 92 score butter advanced 1½c since last Friday and brought 23½c per pound in a steady market.

There were too few sales on fresh New York state cheese to establish definite quotations. Some fresh flats part grass, grading fancy were offered at 14¾, 15c per pound. A few fodders were offered at 14½c. Most full grass cheese going into storage. Market continued firm on held. Held flats grading fancy to specials sold at 20½, 21½c. State flats of average run grade remained unchanged at 13c per pound on June 22, on western New York dairy boards of trade.

Receipts of eggs in New York City the first four days this week were 110,733 cases, which were 24,372 cases less than the same time last week and were 21,755 cases less than the same period last year. Lighter receipts of nearby whites and very light supplies of nearby browns resulted in drastic price advances. Nearby white specials advanced 3c since last Friday and brought 20, 23c per dozen. Some receivers are paying 1-2c premium over this quotation for a regular supply of extra fancy quality and selected grading. Standards sold at 18, 19c, and mediums 17, 18c. Brown special packs advanced 2c and realized 17, 22c, according to quality. Market was firm on nearby whites and browns and irregular on mixed colors. Fancy Pacific coast whites brought 23¼, 23¾c per dozen. Nearby white specials plus the full premium are costing receivers 25c and most chain stores are turning to Pacific coast whites. The lighter receipts of nearby whites were about equal to the regular demand. However, trade advices indicate that more Pacific coast naturals will be avaiable next week.

The market for duck eggs continued barely steady. Indian Runner from Central New York packed 20 dozen in hen egg cases brought mostly 14c per dozen. A few as low as 13c and a few as high as 16c.

Telescope Lens Cast at Corning Glass Works

A huge glass disk, from which will be ground a 76-inch telescope mirror for the David Dunlap observatory at the University of Toronto, was cast early last week at the Corning Glass Works.

More than 12 inches thick, the disk weighed two and a half tons and was one of the largest single casting ever attempted by the concern.

After four hours in the mould, the disk will be placed in an annealling oven, where it will remain for four months before it is shipped to England for grinding and polishing.

Mrs. David Dunlop, doner of the observatory, and a party of Toronto professors witnessed the casting.

Not to have hope is the poorest of all conditions.

Can You Afford NOT to have an ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR?

For the moment, let's forget the fun and convenience of owning an Electric Refrigerator. Let's forget health protection—if we can.

Instead, let's talk about savings. Let's talk about vegetables, fruit, and meat, and bottles of milk and cream saved from spoiling... about tempting dishes fashioned from this and that left over from yesterday's dinner... about food bought in quantity at lower prices.

These savings are worth talking about because they're real. They mean real money. They amount to around $7.50 a month in the average home.

Do you wonder that we ask, "Can you afford not to have an Electric Refrigerator?" ... Think it over!

"LOOK, DEAR! WE SAVED $7.50 ON OUR FOOD BUDGET LAST MONTH... OUR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR WAS CERTAINLY A WISE INVESTMENT."

Be Patient

Folks who have made inquiry by letter and otherwise, the writer would like to say, Be patient, your scribe is working all the daylight he has to get in crops, etc., and will always do his best to write all the news of your friends, especially the sick or any who may pass over to the other side. However, don't look for too much until after crops are in. Stand by The TIMES. It brings you a message from home and is not afraid to give some facts you do not get in the dailies.

A Difference

Friends, did it ever occur to you that everybody believes in history if it suits their fancy? Now you speak of astronomy. You have a crowd they tell us of worlds beyond the stars and suns, larger than our world and that we are a mere little speck space. Everyone believes all this stuff and no one knows if it is so or not. Eye hath not seen or ear heard. But you tell them about Jesus Christ whom we have seen and who walked and talked and who was crucified and arose and is forever alive, forevermore and they say "we don't believe it." Why not?

Sooner or later the strong need the help of the weak.

WOMAN SUES ERIE RAILROAD FOR DAMAGES

MRS. FRANK F. DUELL OF HORNELL BRINGS ACTION FOR $50,000. DAMAGES AGAINST RAILROAD FOR ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF HER HUSBAND AT HORNELL.

Papers in a $50,000 negligence action have been filed by Belle Deuel, Hornell, administratrix of the estate of Frank F. Deuel, deceased, against the Erie Railroad Company. Recently the plaintiff filed a complaint through the law firm of Thomas F. Rogers and Michael H. Cahill. The defense company through Attorney John Hollis filed an answer. The case which will be tried under the interstate commerce law will be brought to trial in United States district court.

Mrs. Deuel seeks to recover damages for the death of her husband who was injured while employed as electrician in the railroad shops at Hornell.

On December 29, 1930 the late Mr. Deuel was working near the shops when, according to papers filed in the case, a window fell from the building and struck him a glancing blow on the head, neck and shoulders. As he was knocked to the ground it is claimed he came in contact with an electric wire from which he received an electric shock.

He was confined with injuries to a Hornell hospital for some time and later removed to his home. He died May 15, 1932 from injuries which the plaintiff alleges he sustained in the accident. Plaintiff attorneys contend that the railroad concern was negligent.

The answer filed by Attorney Hollis claims that the man assumed the risks and dangers of the job upon being given employment.

Probably the biggest crowd ever seen in Cameron Mills gathered there on old home day last year and everyone seemed to have a good time. Those concerned are going ahead with the regular plans for the day, including ball games, sports, speaking, etc.

All who are interested in this day, which should include all present and former inhabitants of Cameron Mills, should be there on August 5. Any suggestions should be made to Mr. James Crawford who is the president of the old home day Association.

Last year people were present from California to Cape Cod and all points between. This record should not be lowered this year.

Already lumber prices have sharply advanced. We strongly recommend that you fill your bin now wtih D. and H. coal. It is the highest quality and gives the best satisfaction, running uniform, clean and of the greatest thermal unity.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS TO PURGE PARTY FROM KOENIG LEADERSHIP

In New York City last week there was a mass meeting—the largest of its kind in a generation, it is said—which, while devoted purely to a local situation, is full of significance to the people over the state, especially to members of the republican party. It was a meeting to organize the large and growing number of republicans who are opposed to the continuance of Samuel S. Koenig as leader of New York county and propose to work for his removal. It was made up almost entirely of republican organization workers who have lost confidence in the Koenig leadership.

Was No Mincing of Words

In giving the reasons why Mr. Koenig should be relieved of the position of leader there was no mincing of words. The burden of discussion was the general opinion concerning Mr. Koenig's friendly relations with Tammany hall and the impossibility of building up the republican party in New York county so long as he remained leader. The principal speaker, Charles H. Tuttle said that whether right or wrong, the public believed it saw in Mr. Koenig's actions "the relation of an ally rather than an opponent of Tammany hall." David B. Costuma, former district leader under Mr. Koenig, declared: "Mr. Koenig's leadership has been discredited by the rank and file of the party in Manhattan and the fight against him is not confined to any one district, but has grown spontaneously in every district of the county." Others spoke in similar vein.

Meeting Was Second Step

The mass meeting was the second step in the movement to bring about the retirement of Mr. Keonig. Preceding it was a letter asking him to step aside for the good of the party and bearing the signatures of 23 New York county republicans, including the names of many persons of national and state prominence as well as others who, though less widely known, are influential figures in the political life of the county. The signers were Elihu Root and Henry L. Stimson, former secretaries of state; Ogden L. Mills former secretary of the treasury; Geo. W. Wickersham former U. S. attorney general; George Z. Medalie, U. S. attorney; Edward Corsi, immigration commissioner; former representative Ruth B. Pratt, republican national committeeman; Chas. H. Tuttle, former U. S. attorney; Henry W. Taft, former president of the New York Bar Association; William Ziegler, Jr., treasurer of the republican state committee; Richard W. Lawrence, former president of the National Republican club; former Justice Robert McMarsh; Alderman Jos. Clark Baldwin; Assemblyman Herbert Brownell; Assemblyman Abbot Low Moffat; Joseph H. Choate, Jr., member of the New York City Beer Board Margaret M. Burnet, former republican candidate for register; Gustave Hartman, former judge; James A. Hatch, president of the Tenth Assembly District Republican club; James Marshall, president of the New York County Advisory committee; Ezra P. Prentice; former Assemblyman Frances E. Rivers and Mary B. VanZile, chairman of the state affairs committee of the Women's National republican club.

Tammany Situation Explained

The real domain of Tammany hall does not, as many people suppose, embrace all of the Greater City of New York. It includes only New York county. Formerly what is now Bronx county was a part of New York county. These two counties thus constitute the old original Tammany territory, and Tammany's influence is still potent there, though officially it controls but the one county. It is in this area where exists the alleged alliance between republican leaders and Tammany which is generally blamed for the decline of the republican party in the city.

Two Leaders in Question

Mr. Koenig is leader of New York county. The leader of Bronx county is John J. Knewitz, who holds a $9000 Tammany job with no work attached. It might hardly be expected that he would do anything to displease Tammany. He was the only one of the five republican county leaders in New York City who did not sign the petition for the legislative investigation resulting in the Seabury inquiry. His county makes by all odds the poorest showing in the greater city, and of course in the state, with 325,260 enrolled democrats and only 50,069 enrolled republicans. There is the same feeling concerning Mr. Knewitz as Mr. Koenig, but organization of it has not progressed so far, though steadily crystallizing.

Of State-Wide Importance

The importance to the wohle state of the movement to correct conditions in New York City is not generally recognized, and Chairman Macy of the republican state committee has recently taken occasion to point out some facts which stress that point. He notes that the five counties constituting Greater New York now have a population greater by a million and a quarter than the other 57 counties of the state, and that so long as Tammany can control a large part of the republican vote in its territory and roll up as many as 300,000 illegal votes in addition, there is little hope of electing a republican state ticket, nor will it be possible to increase materially the party's representation from New York in the legislature. It is thus held that anything which will put the republican party on its feet in the greater city and make of it an effective element of opposition to Tammany, is of vital importance to all citizens, upstate and down. For certainly the residents of the balance of the state, regardless of politics, do not want Tammany methods introduced into their territory, which would be the natural result of letting things go.

Presented Play

The play, "A Breach of Promise Suit," which was put on at the church here Friday night by members of the East Ave., church of Hornell was well attended. The plaintiff in the case was played by Miss Olive Oakes and defendant was Archie Crozier. Lawyers who argued the case were James Austin and Harry K. Morton. The parts were all well played and roars of laughtre ensued. The East avenue church orchestra furnished the music.

Rev. Martha P. BEUNA VISTA

Severe Storm Monday

Monday afternoon brought to this community one of the most severe storms in recent years. The storm broke about 2 oclock and was most severe somewhere between this place and the Stephens Gulch road. The storm traveled in a narrow strip from Hornell through this place toward Bath. It assumed cloud burst dimension and the roads were streams of muddy filth and ebris. The large 5 foot culvert toward the pine woods would carry only about half of the water that came down in a stream that usually is a mere trickling brook.

Fields which were recently planted were washed badly with the flood which covered them, potato fields suffering greatest damage. Ditches were washed in the middle of roads and left in a dangerous condition.

ANNUAL SERMON DELIVERED BY REV. DAWKINS

THE SUBJECT, "INCESSANT GROWTH," THE INSPIRATION OF A STRONG AND THOUGHTFUL DISCOURSE BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE SUNDAY EVENING.

The annual sermon before the graduating class was delivered in the Baptist church Sunday evening by Rev. Carl E. Dawkins. The church was packed with an attentive and appreciative audience which heard an able and thoughtful discourse on the subject, "Incessant Growth."

The class of 1933, the school board and the faculty attended in a body.

Some of the thoughts from the sermon are as follows:

I want to take this opportunity to welcome you to this service tonight. We are delighted to have you, and wish you all the success that life can offer. We want you to go out into life well equipped, but more important, we want you to go out with a determination to continue to grow. "He can who thinks he can." observed Virgil, the Latin poet, many years ago and it is still true. There is nothing, humanly speaking, that you cannot have if you wish it strongly enough, go after it hard enough and stick to it long enough. Go out to grow into strong, fine manhood and womanhood.

There was a phrase that gripped my imagination as I read it some time ago in Emerson's essay on "Character." It was the phrase that I have chosen for the topic of the sermon tonight. Emerson is speaking of the chief properties of life in character development when he says, "These are properties of life, and another trait is the notice of incessant growth." What a world of meaning is wrapped up in that little phrase. What powerful possibilities lie dormant in those last two words! The young man or woman who goes out with a determination to grow until life ends will realize what real success lies hidden in those words, to be mined and marketed by those who will take the pains and time to do it.

Milo of Crotona, one of the greatest athletes that ever lived, was reputed to have carried a bull across the Olympic fields after winning his tenth consecutive Olympic games wrestling title and to have eaten it all by himself in one day. He had made a wager with one of the rich men of his day that he could accomplish that feat. He began practising with a calf, and each day he would carry it until it grew up to be a heavy full grown bull. The secret of his success points out the truth of the power behind the phrase of "Incessant Growth." Just a little strength added each day will, in the course of a few years, mean superhuman strength. This law of growth applies to muscles of the brain as well as to those of the physical body; and equally well to moral and spiritual strength.

One of the first recorded baccalaureate sermons was written for one pupil. He was a brilliant young man with good ancestral backing. He had been privileged to sit at the feet at one of the world's greatest teachers and now he was graduating, a class of one, but his teacher decided that he needed a real baccalaureate sermon, so he sat down and wrote out one that has been used for countless millions of young men and women since that day. In fact this wise teacher wrote two sermons. The last one was written from a Roman prison as the aged teacher was closing one of the greatest chapters in the biographies of great men. The Apostle Paul was the teacher and his brilliant young pupil was Timothy. I am going to point out a few of the choice selections and show you how applicable they are to our age, even after almost two thousand years:

"The aim of your instruction," wrote this wise teacher, "must be love that springs from a pure heart, and from a good conscience, and from a sincere faith." ...."Train yourself for the religious life!"...."Let no one slight you because you are young, but set them an example in speech, behavior, love, faith, and in purity." "Do not neglect the gifts with which you are endowed. Re-kindle the divine gifts." "Practice these duties until you become absorbed in them!" "Persevere in these things!" "O, Timothy, guard that which has been entrusted to you." "Keep your own life pure!" "Do your utmost to let God see that you are a workman with no need to be ashamed of the work that you do." "Hold to what you have been taught, and to your convictions!" "Preach the word; keep at in season and out of season." "The Lord will be with your spirit" "God bless you all."

Timothy must have been thrilled through and through when he received these messages from the pen of his old teacher. They must have been towers of strength when he launched out on his career as a minister of God. The above sentences culled from Paul's letter to Timothy and as recorded by the revised versions, were illustrated with facts from present day life.

"Heaven is not reached at single bound;
But we build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round.

"I count this thing to be grandly true,
That a noble need is a step toward God—
Lifting the soul from a common sod
To a purer air and a broader view
"We rise by the things that are 'neath our feet;
By what we have mastered of good and of gain;
By the pride disposed and the passion slain,
And the vanquished ills that we hourly meet."

—From "Gradatim," by J. G. Holland

"The heights by great men, reached and kept,
Were not attained by sudden flight,
But they while their companions slept
Were toiling upward in the night."

A motto over the entrance to the southern gate of the Campus of my Alma Mater, Denison university, Granville, Ohio.

In one of Joseph Warrens' oratorical flights, when he was at the height of his power, he pictured to the vast throng that had gathered at Fenuel Hall in Boston to hear him, the trials and temptations and hardships that had beset their forefathers. How they had borne it all nobly and honorabiy. Then after a pause he electrified his audience with this challenge: "The voice of your father's blood calls to you from the ground, "My sons, scorn to be slaves." You too must "scorn to be slaves" of a wasted and unimproved life of laziness. I can close with nothing better than did Paul his sermon to Timothy. "The Lord be with your spirit! God bless you all!"

SOUTH WOODHULL

Worthy to Mention

After all the turmoil concerning the milk situation over in the southern tier many find fault about the testing of milk, making cheese, etc. We just want to mention that by sending milk to the cheese factory Mr. Ross Sly got $1.03 per hundred and Waite Cook, sending to the Renkin plant at Osceola, Pa., received $1.78 per hundred and his test was 4.4.

Economy

Your scribe is ever on the alert that justice is done to all and many times has told through these columns how Woodhull officials were always ready to boost a good project. especially good roads of which we can rightly boast. But the last movement we have in our town is to lower taxes by cutting out the office of collector and the one cent fee heretofore collected for 30 days and all fees after 30 days collected will go to the town fund. The job of collecting the taxes will be placed on the town clerk who will receive all taxes for the town without fee for 30 days. We believe every person in Woodhull is proud of our town board.

To Improve Road

M. H. Williams, town supt of highways was through here Friday. He tells us he expects to bring a crew of men here within the next few days to put in a strip of stone base near the red school house and H. D. Grist's place. This is an awfully bad piece of road in the spring. Mr. Williams was also looking over the dirt roads to see if they were kept in the best condition at the least expense.

The toastmaster succeeded in having speaker No. 1 read a sentence of his speech, then speaker No. 2 read a sentence until the speeches were completed much to the amusement of the audience and embarassment of the speakers and toastmaster.

C. WILBER ANNOUNCES PLATFORM

To the Republican electors of Steuben county:

Believing the next sheriff should be selected for his own qualifications, on his agreement to perform the duties of the office to the best of his ability and that the voters are entitled to know his attitude on these matters, I have at least partly completed my platform.

First: The oath of office requiring the execution of the law impartially, fairly and to the best of my ability will be strictly adhered to if and when elected.

Second: I pledge myself to strict economy, to continue the limitations now placed on deputies by our present sheriff, to limit the number of deputies and arrange them so each locality will be served without any more than necessary duplication in mileage and to an economical operation of the jail and sheriff's office.

Third: With the number of auto accidents and deaths by such accidents increasing, I pledge myself and my office if elected to a fair and reasonable supervision of the highways to eliminate careless driving on our highways and the endangering of life or property.

Fourth: The wet and dry question still remaining unsettled, I promise a rigid enforcement of such laws as shall be passed relative to the regulation of intoxicating liquors and to prevent the unlawful operations of any gang or persons as has been attempted in the past, in operating in this county, or grafting in respect to the same.

Fifth: In case of any disturbances my attitude shall be to enforce the law with reasonable and proper respect for life and property.

Sixth: The present administration has been burdened with an unusually large number of murder cases, and my attitude shall be that an immediate, rigid but just administration of law tends to reduce crime, and I shall act accordingly. Some of the supporters of Mr. Cornell have published the statement that my present residence is at Bath and insist on throwing mud. What property I own is in the city of Hornell and town of Hornellsville. I lived in Hornell for years and it was my home until about a month after I was made a guard at the jail and finding that the county work as guard and deputy sheriff required my time and service at Bath where the jail was, I moved my family there. My home is still in Hornell and I fully expected to return there when my duties for the best interest of the county by whom I am employed do not require my living at Bath.

The support of those in accord with my attitude as expressed here will be appreciated and I believe that my being an exservice man adds to my qualifications for sheriff.

CLARENCE WILBER.

WILL OPEN ANDERSON CHILDREN'S HOME FOR THE SUMMER SEASON

The Steuben County Tuberculosis Association executive committee has decided to reopen the Anderson Childrens Home at South Canisteo to care for undernourished children in July and as many children as possible will be cared for. Last year the camp was closed and the children were cared for in the Rotary camp at Richtmeyer's grove on the Almond road.

Tuesday evening, June 20 a meeting of the executive committee of Steuben County Tuberculosis Association was held in the office of the Landman building in Hornell at which time the final plans for the opening of the Anderson Health Home at South Canisteo were discussed.

Although the organization has many other interests the camp for undernourished children is its principal activity. The most necessary repairs will be made and with this end in view Mr. Harold Ranger of the Elmhurst Dairy, Hornell, will furnish a truck to carry volunteer workmen, members of the Hornell Labor Union to the home on Thursday, June 22. These men gave their services to make repairs as far as possible at the present time. Material for this work has been donated by Tracy & Jones and the Maple City Lumber Co., of Hornell. The cement work will be done by Arthur Spencer, who also contributes his time to this worthy cause.

Mr. Crane reported that several substantial pledges to finance the camp had been made—the secretary Mrs. Ora D. Layton said that money was being received in response to the recent letters of appeal sent to interested individuals and organizations throughout the county.

Mrs. Margaret Standish was appointed nurse in charge of camp affairs with the following advisory committee Miss Hazel Stewart, Mr. J. P. Lair, Mr. Chas. Wineburg. Only the most needful cases will be taken at the camp and the number will be limited to 24, half to be selected from the eastern section of the county. Miss Bertha Reynolds, registered nurse of Corning will have charge of selecting this group.

It is the hope of the officers that the organizations and individuals in the county who are willing to help in this good work will respond quickly so that the committee will be free from financial worries and able to give the best attention possible to each child taken to the camp for rest and care.

39 YEARS AGO IN CANISTEO

(Reprinted from The Canisteo TIMES of June 28, 1894.)

ADRIAN: Claude Hallett killed a large black snake among the rocks near Asa Baker's last week. It measured seven feet and nine inches and was large in proportion.—Miss Lilly Margeson closed her succesful school at Hadley's Tuesday.—Phillie King saved the life of a boy named Fin Whalen, who was visiting in Adrian last week. The little fellow was taken with cramps and had sunk for the last time when Phil courageously plunged in and brought him out.

SOUTH CANISTEO: Satnley Wilson new shingled a part of his father's house last week.—R. H. Comfort mowed his clover on the flat Saturday and Monday.—James Wilson was the last one in this place to clip the 16c free wool.—The steeple to the new church was completed Monday with a six foot spire.

At the Presbyterian church in Conklin, N. Y., at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 20, 1894, Miss Nellie Parsons of that place was wedded to Mr. Orra A. Spaulding of Canisteo. Rev. I. P. Emerick performed the ceremony.

Surrogate M. Rumsey Miller has decided that the will of the late David W. Langley of this village is valid. Mr. Langley died in July 1888 and was survived by a widow and her son Kenneth Langley and another son, Charles, the child of a former wife. In his will he left his wife $500 in lieu of dower and all other interest in said estate, and the balance of his property to be divided between his 2 sons, giving Charles $3,000 more than Kenneth, also making a provision that one of his executors should move his residence and take care and see to the education of the boys. Another provision of the will was that should his wife not accept conditions and contest his will, all the property should revert to the son by his former wife. The wife contested the will on the grounds that the testator was of unsound mind when it is made and laboring under insane delusions. Although the surrogate decided that the testator was "of sound mind and memory and competent to make and execute a last will," still he finds "that the provisions of said will are grossly unjust and unnatural."

They Wilt Easily

The farmer and his hired help had stopped for a few moments to rest their backs after weeding.

"Which weeds are the easiest to kill? asked the young man.

The farmer glanced at him shrewdly. "Widow's," he replied; "you've only to say 'Wilt thou?' and they wilt."

HOW TO HAVE GOOD HEALTH

BY DR. G. LEROY DALE
Superintendent of Physical Culture Hotel, Dansville, New York.

Treating Symptoms or Building Health, Which?

In the natural methods of getting well, the fast, the milk diet, exercises, fresh air, and health suggestions occupy prominent places. Although we are all individually drawing life from the one great source, we are using it in many different ways. Many an individual has found that the general instructions to fast, exercise, breathe fresh air, an deat vitalized foods, although good, do not answer all the requirements in the getting well process.

Medical people are supposed to be in the world to help people get well. Many of them do the very best they can. The trouble is that a lot of them do not know how to keep themselves well. Their education has always been along the ideas of disease. Sometimes it is difficult for them to recognize health when it is making an effort to express. Drugless physicians, on the other hand, are in most cases educated along health lines and are usually taught sufficient of disease symptoms to recognize what is meant when a certain name is given. To know all about disease, however, does not help anybody get well. To know all about darkness would not help anyone to understand light. You can understand that the absence of light would mean darkness. When one studies health they can understand that the absence of health means sickness. The average human who is seeking health needs to be taught what health is and how it is produced. Health depends upon the use the individual makes of life. Life flows through the backbrain and spinal column into the human body. The individual literally lives in the body and directs that life by his thinking, either consciously or subconsciously.

This is what most people find a little difficult to understand. They do not realize that they are thinking asleep or awake, and that the little five per cent conscious phase of the mind, which we often refer to as "ME," is a rather unimportant thing. It is how you are thinking subconsciously that determines the use of life in your physical organism. Now with the concsious part of the mind we can reason, observe, reflect and hold to certain thoughts and ideas until they are impressed on the subconscious part of our nature. The subconscious part of our mind runs our human machine and when we make correct impression on the life flowing through the subconscious mind we get altered conditions in our body cells and in our affairs. We can think either rightly or wrongly, good or bad. Here is a little song we often sing in our institution, the Physical Culture Hotel, Dansville, N. Y.:

I can be happy or I can be sad,
I can be good or I can be bad,
It all depends on me.
I can be cheerful, helping and true,
Scattering sunshine all the day through,
It all depends on me.
I can be healthy and happy,
Brimful of joy and gladness,
I'm to blame wholly for what I do,
Oh I know.
I can be master or I can be slave
I can be almost any old thing
It all depends on me.

The getting well process depends about ninety per cent on the amount of intelligence and persistence that the individual has in learning and applying health laws and principles. The other ten per cent depends on the skill and ability that the doctor in charge of the case has in regarding to teaching the individual certain habits and in helping to keep him cheered up. What we call life does the healing. Life is constantly working and constantly expressing and just as soon as we realize that we can govern its expression to a great degree just at the time that we do realize we start on the road to good health.

In almost any chronic non-contagious condition of sickness, living without food for a week is very necessary if one wants to get into a better condition of health. Practically anybody can live on a fruit juice diet for a week. That is, use the juice of an orange about every hour during the day and drink some water in between. The thorough cleansing of the lower bowel with an enema, if necessary, once in twenty-four hours, is sometimes necessary on the road to good health through natural means. An individual can often follow out an orange juice diet and cleanse the bowels themselves at home. When it comes to spinal manipulation they usually need the services of some one else and this is where a doctor of the drugless type often comes in. The individual who wants to get well should look for a physician who knows how to stay well himself. This should be the test as to what kind of a physician to employ. I have known many physicians of all kinds and types. Some of the best friends I have are physicians who are graduates in medicine but these particular physicians do not give medicines and tonics. They do not recommend operations when unnecessary. They have all gone past that ordinary stage where the prescription blank and advice to eat nourishing food are handed out. The real physician is a teacher in every sense of the term.

It is not necessary to know all about disease conditions in order to get rid of them. That is where the average is deluded. The average human being often thinks that the man who charges the most or who talks the most about trouble is the one to go to. Not at all. The one to go to is the one who knows how to stay well, who knows what health is, and who can give definite clear advice in every case that will bring about results if the individual follows the advice. Do not expect for a minute to get well through the average process of what is called doctoring. It never did work and it never will. Getting well is due to the action of the life in your own mind and body. Learn how to use it correctly. Be your own doctor. There is nothing in the world like it. Getting well is just as clear cut and definite as following out the principles of mathematics or music. If one knows how they can get results. Anyone of average intelligence can learn how and it doesn't take many years to learn. Sometimes it can be done in a very few weeks.

PRODUCTION RECORDS HELP SELL STOCK

The records which had been made in the Ketch Brothers herd, members of the Cohocton Valley Cow Testing Association, helped to sell several head of registered Holstein cows and heifers consigned by these breeders at the recent Earlville sale. This use of the records is cited by tester George Arnold as one of the benefits of membership in the association.

Mr. Arnold reports that in the month of May a five year old Holstein cow in the herd of Murray Barnes of Avoca made a production of 77 lbs. of fat and 1711 lbs. of milk and a Holstein cow in the Davenport home herd placed second with 71 pounds of fat and 2139 pounds of milk. Smith Bielby of Bath, I. J. Calkins, Avoca, each had 14 cows on the honor roll. Edward Heinaman of Bath had 11; Mrs. S. E. Harding of Hornell 6; and Claude Whitford and Murray Barnes, Avoca, 5 each.

Ketch Bros., Wallace and S. H. Lyke, Howard each had 4 and Davenport home herds had 4 and 3. Andrew Kurtz of Cohocton had 3 as did John Kinsman of Kanona and John Hewlett & Sons of Bath. Chas. Scudder of Campbell and A. W. Norris of Kanona each had 2.

Production records as made in the cow testing association establish a true value of dairy cows and help to sell good cattle at better than average prices, Mr. Arnold states in commenting on the experience of Ketch Bros. The records aid the owner in establishing a true value of the cows in the herd and influences the buyer to pay the higher prices that the better cows are worth.

"Don't forget. We'll be expecting you soon!"

HOW OFTEN have you promised some out-of-town friend or relative that you'd pay her a visit, very soon?

Now it's months and months since she's heard your voice. How you'd both be thrilled to have a good, old-time chat together!

Even if you can't take the trip out there in person, you can let the telephone take you for a voice visit—a visit almost as intimate as though you were actually side-by-side.

POST OFFICE EMPLOYEES GET FURLOUGHS

In accordance with departmental orders, each employee of the Canisteo office, save rural carriers, will be given nine days leave of absence without pay during the July-September quarter. This will net a saving of 54 days; for the leaves are to be granted without the employment of substitutes. This will necessitate the closing of the office on Saturday afternoons. As a matter of fact, most of the larger offices in the county, such as Hornell and Bath, have been closed on Saturday afternoons ever since the enactment of the 44-hour week law. But until the present furlough order the local office has remained open. Even now one clerk will be on duty to dispatch the outgoing mail, and the lobby will remain open for the convenience of box holders. But there will be no window service.

On and after July 1, the postage rate on first class mail intended for LOCAL DELIVERY will be 2 cents per ounce. The rate on letters for delivery at other offices will remain 3 cents per ounce. The 2-cent rate locally applied to all letters delivered by the Canisteo office, both city and rural delivery. It does NOT apply to letters addressed to offices supplied by Star routes from Canisteo, such as Rexville, Greenwood, Jasper. In cases such as these, the rate is still 3 cents.

Beautiful Display of Flowers for Mrs. Scranton

The funeral of the late Mrs. Roy H. Scranton of Canisteo was held on Thursday, Rev. H. L. Somers, pastor of the Presbyterian church offered prayer at the house at 1 o'clock and the body was taken to the Presbyterian church where it lay in state until the funeral at 2:30.

The display of floral tributes at the church was massive and of unusual beauty, testifying to the high esteem, affection and sympathy in which Mrs. Scranton was held. The entire front of the church was massed with a beautiful floral display, one of the largest and finest ever seen in Steuben county.

On the day of her death Mrs. Scranton expressed complete resignation that she had but a few hours to live; she selected her undertaker, J. A. Killeen of Hornell, who conducted the funeral assisted by undertakers R. B. Murray and Sherman Crane of Hornell, F. E. Williams, C. Howard Richardson of Canisteo. Death came as a welcome visitor to relieve her of suffering and summon her to a better, fuller and happier life.

The brief remarks by Rev. Somers were appealing, apropriate and eloquent and were listened to with profound attention. The Eastern Stars formed the guard of honor for their member; the service at the grave was short. She was laid to rest in a beautiful spot in Woodlawn cemetery over which the flowers bloom, the birds sing and the south winds gently blow.

Among those from out of Canisteo who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Truax, daughter Arlene and son Carl of Parish, N. The work will be done by road foreman John Clarkson and his men. It will be started soon.
